

#CommitTo

INCLUSION,

#CommitTo

DIGNITY,

#CommitTo

OPPORTUNITY.

We, the undersigned, believe in the following core values:

A belief in the dignity and humanity of all people.

A recognition that all people are connected to each other and to our living planet.

A belief in the rights of all people to fairly and freely participate in the democratic governing structures that impact their lives.

A belief in the responsibility of government, markets, and a civil society that work to serve the wellbeing of people, including the right to health care, education and shelter.

A belief that it is untenable to enact policies that suppress opportunity.

A belief in the rights of free expression under the protection of the government.

A New
Social
Compact

Read the full compact and sign in agreement with these values at newsocialcompact.org

#CommitTo

INCLUSION,

#CommitTo

HUMANITY,

#CommitTo

RESPECT.

We, the undersigned, believe in the following core values:

A belief in the dignity and humanity of all people.

A recognition that all people are connected to each other and to our living planet.

A belief in the rights of all people to fairly and freely participate in the democratic governing structures that impact their lives.

A belief in the responsibility of government, markets, and a civil society that work to serve the wellbeing of people, including the right to health care, education and shelter.

A belief that it is untenable to enact policies that suppress opportunity.

A belief in the rights of free expression under the protection of the government.

A New
Social
Compact

Read the full compact and sign in agreement with these values at newsocialcompact.org

#CommitTo EQUALITY.

We, the undersigned, believe in the following core values:

A belief in the dignity and humanity of all people.

A recognition that all people are connected to each other and to our living planet.

A belief in the rights of all people to fairly and freely participate in the democratic governing structures that impact their lives.

*
A New Social
Compact

Read the full compact and sign in agreement with these values at newsocialcompact.org

A belief in the responsibility of government, markets, and a civil society that work to serve the wellbeing of people, including the right to health care, education and shelter.

A belief that it is untenable to enact policies that suppress opportunity.

A belief in the rights of free expression under the protection of the government.

A New Social Compact

We, the undersigned, believe in the following core values:

A belief in the dignity and humanity of all people.

A recognition that all people are connected to each other and to our living planet.

A belief in the rights of all people to fairly and freely participate in the democratic governing structures that impact their lives.

A belief in the responsibility of government, markets, and a civil society that work to serve the wellbeing of people, including the right to health care, education and shelter.

A belief that it is untenable to enact policies that suppress opportunity.

A belief in the rights of free expression under the protection of the government.
